THE SOUTH-CAROLINA AND COUNTRY GAZETTE; JOURNAL.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, both Foreign and Domeſtic.

TUESDAY, APRIL 14, 1772.

On Thurſday laſt the Honourable the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly of this Province, waited upon his Excellency the Governor, with the following ADDRESS, in Anſwer to his Speech:

To his Excellency the Right Honourable Lord CHARLES-GREVILLE MONTAGU, Captain General, Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over his Majeſty's Province of SOUTH-CAROLINA.

The Humble ADDRESS of the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly of the ſaid Province.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,

WE his Majeſty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly of this Province, beg Leave to return our Thanks to your Excellency for your Speech at the Opening of this Seſſion; for the good Wiſhes which you are pleaſed to expreſs for the Welfare of the Province, and for your Excellency's Aſſurances of your zealous Endeavours to promote its Intereſt; as well as for your Candour, in informing us, at this Time, of ſuch Obſtacles as will prevent the Paſſing of any Money-Bill.

We are ſorry to find, that the Impriſonment of the Public Treaſurers, by the laſt Houſe of Aſſembly, for a Contempt and Violation of their Authority and Privileges, was conſidered by your Excellency as an Act diſreſpectful to the Crown: But, that Houſe being the ſole Judges of their own Privileges, it is unneceſſary for us to enter into any Vindication of their Conduct.

Convinced of the Equity and Juſtice of ſatisfying the Public Debts, the Neceſſity of ſupporting Public Credit, and that there are many important Matters, which call for our moſt calm and ſerious Deliberation, we met your Excellency with an earneſt Deſire and Intention of making Proviſion, with all poſſible Diſpatch, for diſcharging the Public Accompts, and of proceeding upon Buſineſs with Alacrity, Temper and Moderation; hoping that, with the Concurrence of a Governor, ſo ſincerely devoted to the Good of the Province, as we believe your Excellency to be, we ſhould have had the Satisfaction of ſeeing public Harmony added to that private Proſperity which affords your Excellency ſo much Pleaſure, the Public Credit reſtored, thoſe Demands ſatisfied, which would have been regularly paid if the Tax-Bill had been ſuffered to paſs in the cuſtomary Manner, and ſeveral neceſſary Regulations both adopted and matured.

We truly lament, that your Excellency's and our good Wiſhes and Intentions are ſtill diſappointed and defeated, by miniſterial Inſtructions, dictating the Manner in which Money-Bills muſt be framed: But we owe it, as an indiſpenſable Duty to our Conſtituents, ourſelves, and Poſterity, to adhere firmly to the Conſtitution, by not ſuffering thoſe Rights and Privileges, with which we are entruſted, to be impaired in our Hands; and though we require no Argument to enforce our Duty to do Juſtice to the Creditors of the Public, yet we will not be prevailed on, by any Conſideration, to betray our Conſtituents, and ſurrender their inheritant eſſential Right of giving and granting their own Money, in ſuch Way and Manner only as they think proper. Being therefore determined not to ſubmit to the Reſtrictions referred to by your Excellency, we ſhall not miſpend our Time in preparing any Bills which, for want of them, muſt prove abortive: But whenever we have Reaſon to think, that Supplies in the uſual and conſtitutional Mode will be accepted, we will moſt chearfully and readily grant them; till then, we ſhall have the Satisfaction to reflect, that any temporary ill Conſequences, which may reſult to Individuals, cannot be imputed to us, and are not to be put in Competition with the Preſervation of the People's Rights.

In conſidering other Matters that may claim our Attention, we ſhall pay due Regard to your Excellency's Recommendation.

In the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly, April 8, 1772. — By Order of the Houſe, PETER MANIGAULT, Speaker.

To which his Excellency was pleaſed to return the following

ANSWER:

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly,

I AM extremely ſorry to find, by your Addreſs, that there is no Probability of any Proviſion being made, at preſent, for diſcharging the Public Debts; and that you ſhould conſtrue his Majeſty's Inſtruction to his Governor, which is only calculated to prevent an unconſtitutional and unwarrantable Application of the Public Money, to be an Invaſion of your Rights to raiſe and to grant it.

I return you my very ſincere Thanks for your Expreſſions of Regard towards myſelf, but cannot ſuffer his Majeſty's juſt Prerogative to be encroached upon, nor upon any Account depart from his Inſtructions.

April 9, 1772. CHARLES-GREVILLE MONTAGU.

From a late LONDON Paper.

TO THE PRINTER.

SIR,

PRIDE and folly generally, ſome time or other, meet a juſt reward. An inſtance of this kind lately fell under my notice. One of our modern fine ladies, alias a farmer's daughter, was very deſirous of dreſſing her hair in the tip of the preſent ridiculous mode. For want of better materials, ſhe made a rowler of new hay, and placing it on her head, turned her hair up over it; after which the neceſſary quantity of powder, &c. &c. &c. was puffed on, and ſhe roſe eminently ſuperior to her butter-making ſiſterhood. Thus attired, forth ſhe went exulting, to pay a viſit to another fine lady of the ſame rank, who ſold bread. On her arrival at the door, hung a baker's horſe loaded with panniers. Theſe obſtructed her paſſage, and ſhe had no other mode of entrance but to ſtoop, and go under the horſe's neck. She did ſo; but when her head approached the chin of Roſinante, the effluvia of the hay made a ſenſible impreſſion on his fancy. He therefore immediately faſtened his teeth on that part of the towering ſtructure whence the grateful odour came, and inſtantly diſlodged the rowler of hay, together with a conſiderable quantity of the hair that covered it, to the no ſmall pain, and greater mortification of the lady, whoſe head now appeared as deſtitute of ornament without ſide, as it really was of ſenſe within.

I relate this anecdote, as a warning to that part of the creation, which nature has been ſo profuſe in adorning with real comelineſs and beauty, that they may ſee the folly of attempting to improve it, by ridiculous modes of dreſs, and the idle fopperies of faſhion. The charms of genuine nature infinitely ſurpaſſes thoſe of art, and can receive no aſſiſtance from them.

PRIMROSE.

ST. GEORGE's, (in Grenada) DECEMBER 10.

COPY of a LETTER from one of the ſuſpended MEMBERS to his Excellency Gov. LEYBORNE, on the Receipt of the Suſpenſion.

SIR,

I Have had the honour of receiving your Excellency's ſuſpenſion of me from being a Member of his Majeſty's Council for this iſland.

As the ſuſpended Members will ſhortly preſent your Excellency with their joint reaſons for refuſing to conſent to the ſwearing in of Mr. Chanteloup as a Member of his Majeſty's Council, your Excellency will now permit me to ſay, that as my conduct was the reſult of the matureſt deliberation, and founded on motives of great public concernment, I cannot but felicitate myſelf on the internal approbation which has followed it, and which, in its true eſtimation, is infinitely more grateful than the warmeſt and moſt diſtinguiſhed miniſterial approbation can poſſibly be.

I truſt, Sir, that I ſhall at all times, and at the peril of all conſequences, contribute my utmoſt endeavours to defeat a meaſure ſo totally illegal and unconſtitutional, and ſo pregnant with danger, as the introduction of the French Papiſts in this iſland into the Council, Aſſembly, and other Offices of truſt, which is now with extreme violence attempted to be carried into execution; and I do not live without hope that the accumulated grievances, which have been heaped upon the injured and oppreſſed inhabitants of this iſland, when conſidered by the conſtitutional redreſſer of all wrongs---a juſt and wiſe Parliament---will inſure to the Author of them that reward which he doth ſo juſtly merit.

I can never, Sir, regret my retreat into a private ſituation, when I can no longer remain in a public one, but by ſacrificing my own opinions, judgment, and conſcience.

I have the honour to be, &c. &c.

St. George's, December 4th, 1771.

The following are the joint Reaſons of the late Members of his Majeſty's Council in Grenada, for their Conduct.

Becauſe, WE think that the many Acts of Parliament which reſtrain the Crown from employing in places of truſt and power all perſons whatſoever who profeſs the Roman Catholic religion, are not to be diſpenſed with by any prerogative of the King; and that the inability all ſuch perſons are at preſent in, by law, of holding offices, is not any otherwiſe to be removed, but by an Act of Parliament of Great-Britain.

Having thus ſtated, in our opinions, what are the laws of Great-Britain, on this head, we are ſorry to be obliged, on this occaſion, to aſſert our indiſputable right to the poſſeſſion of every law and liberty of our Mother Country, that is not inconſiſtent with the due ſubordination of a Colony to the Parent State, for the general good of the whole; neither do we at this time unneceſſarily claim theſe our rights, but are compelled thereto; becauſe, to our great aſtoniſhment, we find them denied, and many of the meaſures adopted here are juſtified on contrary principles; ſuch as the King's power over us, by right of conqueſt, and by his prerogative. The bounds of which, as aſcertained by law in England, and in other Colonies of America, we are told do not extend to us the inhabitants of Grenada. Our reaſons for eſteeming ourſelves in the full poſſeſſion of every Engliſh privilege and liberty as our native birthright, and as confirmed to us by particular laws, are the following:

Becauſe, Every King of England, at his coronation, ſwears to govern the People of the Kingdom of England, and the dominions thereto belonging, according to the ſtatutes in Parliament agreed on, and the laws and cuſtoms of the ſame. Now, if we are included in the words of this oath, the dominions thereto belonging, theſe our liberties have been further confirmed to us, by our gracious King, with every ſanction and ſolemnity of law, that can give ſtability and authority to any action of government, by his inſtructions and orders to our Governors, by his Royal Proclamation, and by his Letters Patent under the Great Seal. In the Proclamation then, for improving and better regulating the countries and iſlands ceded to the Crown of Great-Britain, by the treaty of Paris, it is ſaid, ſpeaking of Grenada and our other acquiſitions in the late war, "And whereas it will greatly contribute to the ſpeedy ſettling our new governments, that our loving ſubjects ſhould be informed of our paternal care for the ſecurity of the liberties and properties of thoſe who are, and ſhall become inhabitants thereof, we have thought fit to publiſh and declare, by this our Proclamation, that we have, in the Letters Patent under our Great Seal of Great-Britain, by which the ſaid governments are conſtituted, given expreſs power and direction to our Governors of our ſaid Colonies reſpectively, that ſo ſoon as the ſtate and circumſtances of our ſaid Colonies will admit thereof, they ſhall, with the advice and conſent of the Members of our Council, ſummon and call General Aſſemblies within the ſaid governments reſpectively, in ſuch manner and form as is uſed and directed in thoſe Colonies and Provinces in America, which are under our immediate government: And we have alſo given power to our ſaid Governors, with the conſent of our ſaid Councils and the Repreſentatives of the People, ſo to be ſummoned as aforeſaid, to make, conſtitute, and ordain laws, ſtatutes, and ordinances, for the public peace, welfare, and good government of our ſaid Colonies, and of the people and inhabitants thereof, as near as may be, agreeable to the laws of England; and under ſuch regulations and reſtrictions as are uſed in other Colonies. And in the mean time, and until ſuch Aſſemblies can be called as aforeſaid, all perſons inhabiting in or reſorting unto our ſaid Colonies, may confide in our royal protection, for the enjoyment of the benefit of the laws of our realm of England; for which purpoſe we have given power, under our Great Seal, to the Governors of our ſaid Colonies reſpectively, to erect and conſtitute, with the advice of our ſaid Councils reſpectively, Courts of Judicature, and public Juſtice within our ſaid Colonies, for the hearing and determining all cauſes, as well criminal as civil, according to law and equity, and as near as may be agreeable to the laws of England."

Becauſe, By the commiſſion under the Great Seal, dated the 9th of April, 1764, to Governor MELVILL, to eſtabliſh and adminiſter the civil government of this Colony, it is expreſsly required, that all perſons in the Council and Aſſemblies, and in all public offices whatſoever, ſhould take the oaths of allegiance, abjuration, and ſupremacy, and make and ſubſcribe the declaration againſt tranſubſtantiation; and it was on this commiſſion, that the civil government of this Colony was actually, compleatly, and, we truſt, permanently eſtabliſhed, by the appointing of a Council, the calling and meeting of ſeveral Aſſemblies, the erection of Courts of Judicature and Juſtice, all whoſe Members, Judges, Miniſters, and Officers, complied with all the requiſites preſcribed in and directed by this commiſſion, which therefore became the known eſtabliſhed Charter of this Colony: Such then of the parts of this commiſſion, as concern the rights, liberties, immunities, and freedom of the people, the form and mode of government, and the eſtabliſhment, preſervation, and ſecurity of the Religion of the Church of England, as by the laws of England eſtabliſhed, cannot now be altered, annulled, appealed, or revoked, by any commiſſion of a contrary or different import, or by any other Act whatſoever, done by the ſole authority of the Crown, and without the conſent and concurrence of the Lords and Commons of Great-Britain.

It is on a ſimilar commiſſion that the conſtitutions of ſeveral of the Colonies and Provinces on the continent of North-America, and of moſt or all of the neighbouring Iſlands depend, and in no one of thoſe conſtitutions (although ſeveral of the Colonies were acquired by conqueſt) hath any alteration at any time been attempted by the prerogative of the Crown.

Becauſe, By the Act of Settlement of the 12th year of King William the IIId, on which it is very well known, his Majeſty's title to the Crown of Great-Britain is founded, it provided that no perſon, born out of the allegiance of the Crown of England, even altho' he be naturaliſed or made a Deniſon, ſhould be capable to enjoy any office or place of truſt, civil or military. And by an Act of Parliament of the 7th and 8th of William III. chap. 22, it is ordained in particular, That all the places of truſt in the courts of law, or reſpective treaſury officers in the plantations, ſhall be only in the hands of natural-born ſubjects of England or Ireland, or of the ſaid plantations. Expreſſions, which in relation to the context of the whole Act, and according to all legal principles of conſtruction, and by analogy with all other laws for limiting the poſſeſſion of offices to natural-born ſubjects, muſt, we apprehend, be taken to be equivalent to, and to mean, ſubjects born under the allegiance of the crown of England in England, Ireland, or the Iſlands, and cannot be meant to include the inhabitants of Grenada, born while it was under the dominion of the crown of France, as has been aſſerted. Now, the Council of Grenada, with the Governor of this Iſland, compoſe a Court of Juſtice, called the Court of Error, of which Court, this Gentleman born out of the allegiance of the crown of Great-Britain, muſt conſequently be a Judge, if he is admitted of the Council; and how contradictory this is to the two Acts of Parliament cited above, we leave all mankind to judge; and to the laſt of theſe two Acts, every Governor of this colony is particularly ſworn to pay obedience at his entering on office.

Becauſe, By the Act of the firſt of William and Mary, S. 2, C. 2, which preſcribes the conditions upon which the crown is held, the pretended powers of ſuſpending and diſpenſing with laws or the execution of laws [illegible] directly contrary to the known l[illegible] the realm.

Becauſe, When it has been thought expedient by government to employ foreigners in America, and to encourage them to ſettle there, recourſe was uſed to be had to Parliament to enable the crown to do what otherwiſe by law could not be done, of which we ſhall only cite two inſtances as ſufficient. In the 13th year of the late King, an act was paſſed by which foreign proteſtants, reſiding ſeven years in any of his Majeſty's colonies, were intitled to the privileges of natural-born ſubjects in the ſaid colonies:--- And early in the late war, in the 29th year of George II. an act was paſſed to enable the King to employ a certain number of foreign proteſtants to ſerve as officers in America only. Thus it appears, that the King's power to diſpenſe with the laws, has no more exiſtence in America than in Europe, and can never be juſtified here, unleſs it can be made appear, that the King is King in Grenada, upon different conditions, and with powers not aſſumed, or pretended to, in his other dominions.

Becauſe, It is plain that the ſame power that can conſtitute two Roman Catholic Counſellors, and three Members of the Aſſembly, and one Judge, may, whenever he pleaſes, make every Member of the Council and Aſſembly, and all the Judges, of Roman Catholics, the legality of one caſe being juſt as plain as the other.

Becauſe, We believe ourſelves juſtified in this our opinion, that the power of the crown is bounded by law in the liberty to be allowed the Roman Catholics; by the words of the definitive treaty of peace made in February 1763, which in the 4th article are as follows: "His Britannic Majeſty agrees to grant the liberty of the Roman Catholic religion to the inhabitants of Canada; he will conſequently give the moſt preciſe and effectual orders that his new Roman Catholic ſubjects may profeſs the worſhip of their religion, according to the rites of the Romiſh church, as far as the laws of Great-Britain permit. And in the 9th article of the ſaid treaty, this clauſe is extended in the ſame words, to Grenada and the Grenadines." Thus does our King with a magnanimity worthy of a Britiſh King, in a ſolemn treaty of peace, and ſpeaking to the Kings of France and Spain, and to the whole world, avow, that he is limited by the laws of his kingdom in the degrees of indulgence that he can impart to his Roman Catholic ſubjects; and makes uſe of words that would be abſurd, if the crown had the powers that the preſent adviſers of this meaſure ſuppoſe inherent in it; for ſurely, in a treaty with foreign powers the King would not diſclaim any of his legal rights and prerogatives.

Becauſe, It has been ſolemnly determined at a Court of Common Pleas of this Iſland, in the month of June of the preſent year, that the laſt Aſſembly held here, in which three Roman Catholics had ſat as Members, was an illegal Aſſembly, and had no authority to make laws; and a Jury on the La Baye cauſe, found a verdict againſt the Provoſt Marſhal, for levying on a perſon who refuſed to pay a tax impoſed by that pretended Aſſembly. Now if any future Aſſembly, in which Roman Catholics are admitted, ſhould be convened and paſs acts, we cannot but apprehend, that the moſt fatal conſequences thereof will be endleſs diſputes and law-ſuits, and uncertainty of property throughout the iſland and its connections at home. We muſt add here, that ſhould there be an Aſſembly now called, in which it might happen that no Roman Catholic had a ſeat, the ſame evils would have followed our conſenting to admit this Roman Catholic Gentleman to be a Member of the Council, as the Council have an equal authority in making the laws with the Aſſembly, and muſt be equally legally conſtituted to make thoſe laws valid.

We are far from being actuated, upon this occaſion, by any partial, national, ſelfiſh, or illiberal prejudices, relating to the new subjects; but in the ſpirit of true liberty, deſire the bleſſings of our free conſtitution and happy form of government, may be extended to all our fellow ſubjects equally with ourſelves; but we muſt think it very hard, to be deprived of our franchiſes and rights, by means of theſe meaſures, and inſtead of having the ſatisfaction of ſeeing theſe formerly French ſubjects exalted into Engliſh freemen, to find ourſelves ſunk into the ſtate of the ſubjects of arbitrary crowns, where the will of the King is the only law of the land, and can change at pleaſure both the laws and legally eſtabliſhed form of government.

To the PRINTER.

SIR,

THE conduct of Rear Admiral Man on the night of the fire, having been falſely repreſented in the account publiſhed in the Gazette of the 11th inſtant; the Admiral thinks it neceſſary, not only to contradict that account, but to repreſent the facts as they really happened, in order to prevent the judgment of men of probity and reputation from being miſled by ſuch an erroneous publication.

The inhabitants of St. George have already arraigned and condemned the Admiral at their tribunal, and have even proceeded to put their ſentence in execution, without having conſidered how far they might or might not be ſupported in their opinion by facts: They have ſince, as the Admiral is informed, removed their complaint to England; it is in that country then, and not here, that he muſt be juſtified, and his only reaſon for publiſhing this account is that above-mentioned.

The moment the alarm of fire was given (not as is ſet forth, when the fire was almoſt at an end) the boats were hoiſted out, two of them were directly ſent on ſhore with men and a petty officer in each boat, to give all the aſſiſtance that lay in their power, and a third was ſent with a meſſage to the Governor, and an offer of ſuch aſſiſtance as the Admiral could give. He received for anſwer, that the Governor deſired all the aſſiſtance that could be ſpared: A Lieutenant was then immediately diſpatched, with an additional number of men with pole axes, and carpenters with axes, ſaws, &c. amounting in the whole to about 50 men; the Falcon's boats were likewiſe ſent, and ſoon after the Spy's. From this time no meſſage was received by the Admiral for a further ſupply of men; he conſequently concluded, that thoſe already ſent were ſufficient, nor indeed could more have been ſpared without leaving the King's ſhips expoſed to the moſt eminent danger.

The Admiral is well pleaſed with the behaviour of his Officers and people on that night, and is convinced, that they greatly diſtinguiſhed themſelves, and did abſolutely preſerve the Cuſtom-Houſe, (which was three times on fire) and in conſequence all the houſes on that hill, together with thoſe leading to the Carnaſh, all which, with the ſhipping in the port, would otherwiſe moſt probably have ſhared the unhappy fate of the reſt.

Happy would the Admiral have been, had he been furniſhed with the means of putting a ſtop to ſo dreadful a conflagration, but that was not in his power, having but few effective men, the choiceſt of whom were already on ſhore under the command of a careful and judicious Officer. The Admiral's firſt duty was, to the ſecurity of the King's ſhips, the ſecond to the unhappy ſufferers; both were ſtrictly attended to, and the Admiral's utmoſt abilities exerted for their joint preſervation.---Theſe are real facts, and as the ſecurity of the trade and Iſland of Grenada have been the objects of his conſtant care and attention, (in common with the other Iſlands within the limits of his command) from inclination, [illegible] he never could have expected ſuch [illegible] than as he has met with from [illegible] of the Inhabitants of St. George, of which he will take no further notice in this place.

WILLIAMSBURG, (Virginia) FEBRUARY 13.

The SPEECH of his Excellency the Right Honourable JOHN [illegible]

[illegible] General Aſſembly convened at the [illegible] on Monday the 10th inſtant.

Gentlemen of the Council, Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Houſe of Burgeſſes,

I AM happy that the circumſtances of the Colony, correſponding with my own deſires, give me an opportunity, ſo ſoon after my entrance upon this government, of procuring your advice and aſſiſtance to enable me to execute the high and arduous truſt which is repoſed in me, in a manner that may prove ſatisfactory to our gracious Sovereign, by being beneficial to his faithful ſubjects of this ancient dominion.

It is my ardent wiſh, and ſhall be my conſtant endeavour, that my adminiſtration may be marked by uſeful ſervices to the Colony. To this end, if any improvements can be introduced upon wiſe and practicable principles, you may depend on my zealous co-operation; if proper means can be fallen upon to direct the ſkill, and invigorate the induſtry of the people, in making the beſt uſe of the natural advantages of this country, to which Providence has been ſo eminently bountiful; to regulate and encourage agriculture, the object of greateſt concern to every country, which cannot fail to extend your commerce, open new ſources of wealth, and add freſh motives of mutual benefit, ſtill to increaſe the dependance of this important Colony, and the Parent Country on each other, it will be extremely agreeable to me to labour towards accompliſhing ſuch deſirable purpoſes.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Houſe of Burgeſſes,

I have nothing in particular to aſk of you at this time. The zeal for the public good, which I am perſuaded will actuate all the proceedings of the Houſe of Burgeſſes, renders ſuperfluous any exhortations of mine to excite you to avoid unneceſſary delays, and thereby an increaſe of expences to your conſtituents.

Gentlemen of the Council, Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Houſe of Burgeſſes,

I have only to add, that you ſhall find me ready to concur with you in whatever is for the intereſt and advantage of your country, fully confiding in the known wiſdom and loyalty of this diſtinguiſhed Aſſembly, that nothing will be offered me incompatible with my duty to aſſent to; and, on all occaſions, I ſhall be forward to promote the welfare of the people of Virginia.

The ADDRESS of his Majeſty's COUNCIL to the GOVERNOR.

MY LORD,

WE his Majeſty's faithful and loyal ſubjects, the Council of Virginia, now met in General Aſſembly, beg leave to return your Excellency our ſincere thanks for your kind Speech at the opening of this Seſſion, and to congratulate you on your ſafe arrival to the government of this ancient dominion.

The early attention your Excellency hath ſhewn to the welfare of this colony, and the earneſt inclination you have expreſſed to promote its proſperity, give us a ſure preſage of the happineſs we may expect to enjoy under your Excellency's prudent Adminiſtration.

The great object of our warmeſt wiſhes hath ever been to enrich our country, by giving encouragement to new improvements, and quickening thereby the induſtry of the people to make uſe of thoſe advantages which Providence hath ſo bountifully beſtowed on us, and to enable us to preſerve that mutual relation which ought always to ſubſiſt between the Parent Country and its Colonies.

We have only to aſſure your Excellency of our readineſs to concur with the other branch of the legiſlature, in forming ſuch laws as we ſhall judge to be for the intereſt and benefit of our country, and the honour of the Crown, and not incompatible with your Excellency's duty to aſſent to.

His EXCELLENCY's Anſwer.

GENTLEMEN,

I AM extremely obliged to you for your Addreſs. I conceive the faireſt hopes of my Adminiſtration from the aſſiſtance of a Council whoſe zeal for the honour of the Crown can only be equalled by, what is altogether as agreeable to our moſt juſt Sovereign, your warm attachment to the intereſt of your Country.

The ADDRESS of the Honourable HOUSE of BURGESSES to the GOVERNOR.

MY LORD,

WE his Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the Burgeſſes of Virginia, now met in General Aſſembly, beg leave to return your Excellency our ſincere thanks for your very kind and obliging ſpeech at the opening of this Seſſion.

The appointment of a ruler of your Lordſhip's eminent and exalted ſtation to preſide over this his Majeſty's ancient dominion we cannot but eſteem a repeated inſtance of the favourable attention of our moſt gracious Sovereign to his faithful ſubjects of Virginia; and therefore take the earlieſt opportunity of congratulating your Excellency on an event, from which, we flatter ourſelves, much honour, and many ſignal advantages, will be derived to this Colony.

We receive, my Lord, with the utmoſt ſatisfaction, thoſe earneſt declarations you are pleaſed to make of your warm attachment to the true intereſt and proſperity of our Country, and beg your Lordſhip will be aſſured that we ſhall be ready, on all occaſions, moſt cheerfully to do every thing in our power, conſiſtent with the duty we owe our conſtituents, to make your Adminiſtration eaſy and agreeable to you.

We will, my Lord, immediately proceed to the important buſineſs of the country, on which we are now aſſembled, and give it all the diſpatch which the variety of affairs that may come under our conſideration will admit of.

His EXCELLENCY's Anſwer.

GENTLEMEN,

I AM obliged to you for this Addreſs, and for your congratulations on the high honour which his Majeſty has conferred upon me. I have ever conſidered the true intereſt of government, and of the people, to be inſeparable. I make this principle the rule of my conduct; therefore, I flatter myſelf that you will never have cauſe to refuſe me the ſupport which you are now pleaſed to promiſe me.

MARCH 5. It is reſolved in the Honourable Houſe of Burgeſſes to concur with the Lower Houſe of Aſſembly of Maryland in the expediency of erecting a Light-houſe on Cape-Henry, and that Commiſſioners be appointed to carry the ſame into execution, for which purpoſe they direct that a ſum not exceeding ſix thouſand pounds be paid by the treaſurer to the commiſſioners; and that a duty be laid upon the tonnage of all ſhips, and other veſſels, coming into this colony, other than from Maryland, to repay ſo much as ſhall be expended in erecting the ſaid Light-houſe, and to provide a proper fund for lighting and ſupporting the ſame.

By an act of Common Council of this city, paſſed the 15th of January laſt, it is ordained, "That all coal, or grain of any kind, offered for ſale, and ſold at either of the ports or landings, or in the ſaid city, after the firſt day of May next, ſhall be by Wincheſter meaſure, agreeable to the ſtandard of the Exchequer in England; and at the time of the delivery thereof ſhall be meaſured by ſuch perſon as the Court of Huſtings ſhall for that purpoſe appoint, who is to make oath faithfully and honeſtly to diſcharge the duty of his office. And all fodder or hay offered for ſale, and ſold in that city, ſhall be by weight." The buyers or ſellers of any of the ſaid commodities, who treſpaſs againſt this act, forfeit twenty ſhillings for every offence, upon conviction.

N. B. The Diſtance from Charles-Town by Water, about Twenty Miles. GEORGE SMITH, jun.

THAT valuable LOT of LAND in Charles-Town, known or diſtinguiſhed in the plan or model thereof, by the No. 191, ſituated at the weſt end and on the north ſide of Tradd-ſtreet, between the houſes of Alexander Fraſer, Eſq; and the late Captain Thomas Elliott, deceaſed, containing in front on ſaid ſtreet, fifty-eight feet, eight inches, or thereabouts, with the advantage of a paſſage; and in depth one hundred and forty-three feet, or thereabouts; whereon is a BRICK HOUSE deſigned for kitchens or two tenements that were intended to be built, and will ſtill ſerve thoſe purpoſes. This Lot has a fine ſouth proſpect of Aſhley-River, and as the proprietor of the oppoſite lot may perhaps make his front on Friend-ſtreet to be uniform with the other houſes built at the ſouth end and weſt ſide of that ſtreet, with the garden running eaſt and weſt, there will be no obſtruction to the ſoutherly air from Aſhley-River, which muſt be very agreeable in the hot months, and may prevent the communication of any malignant diſtemper that may rage in the interior parts of the town, or contagion ariſing from noxious effluvia. Its vicinity alſo to ſeveral good landing places on Aſhley-River, particularly the Sugar-Houſe-Creek, where a public market will no doubt be ſoon eſtabliſhed, will greatly enhance the value of all lands in that part of the town; alſo being ſituated in an excellent neighbourhood of reputable inhabitants, renders it not only more eligible, but ſecure againſt the danger of fire; and being a vacant lot, the purchaſer will have the ſatisfaction of erecting buildings thereon according to his own taſte for pleaſure or profit; the area or ground plot admitting either of one large manſion houſe of twelve rooms, or to be divided into two tenements of ſix rooms each, with land ſufficient behind for a kitchen garden to each. And, as houſes in that airy and pleaſant part of the town are ſeldom or ever empty, it will afford a certain good income quarterly.

The purchaſer may have one, two, three, or four years credit, giving bond, with approved perſonal ſecurity, and paying the intereſt punctually every year, and if he chuſes it, one third or one fourth part of the principal will be received annually, by which inſtalments, the purchaſe money will be eaſily and inſenſibly ſunk. RICHARD-PARK STOBO.

SHADOW,

WILL Cover this Seaſon, any Time after the firſt Day of April next, at BENJAMIN SINGLETON, Eſq'rs. Plantation, in St. James, Gooſe-Creek, at FIVE POUNDS Sterling each MARE, and a DOLLAR to the GROOM. The Money muſt be ſent with them. Very good Paſturage, and great Care will be taken of the Mares.
